

Systems Analyst

Inbank is a financial institution whose roots go back to 2010 and which offers credit and deposit products on six European markets. But our ambitions go even further. We are building a new kind of bank with the cornerstone of our strategy being masterful financial technology and geographic expansion. We are looking for talented people to join our fun-loving and agile team and contribute to the Estonian banking sector's success story here and elsewhere in Europe.

Are you the one we're looking for?

You have an analytical mind that can drill through complex logic, yet you can explain it all to fellow colleagues in a simple language. You love teamwork and are fun to work with. If you also like smaller organizations, international environment and friendly colleagues - then you are the one we are looking for.

HOW WE'D LIKE YOU TO HELP US:

- Develop a deep understanding of how systems talk to each other and what are the interactions between systems
- Act as a knowledge integrator, translating the business requirements into technical requirements
- Present design considerations to software architects and developers who transform the business requirements into usable code
- Develop specifications, diagrams and flowcharts for programmers to follow
- Translate technical issues, verify and explain technical/architectural complexities to project stakeholders
- Consult with IT members in technical jargon that is foreign to business stakeholders
- Pinpoint where changes need to be made and incorporate new data into the projects
- Recognize where problems may lie in the code
- Develop cost analysis and negotiate implementation timelines with technical team
- Oversee implementation, coordinate tests and observe transition of the system to validate performance
- Aid in writing user acceptance test (UAT) cases and act as a liaison for project stakeholders and the technical team during UAT

WHAT WE'D LIKE TO SEE IN THE CANDIDATE:

- You take the responsibility
- You're eager to tackle new challenges and learn
- You find practical solutions and focus on the things that matter
- You have 3+ years experience in development organizations
- You are a friendly person

COMPENSATION AND PERKS:

- We offer highly competitive salaries and benefits packages, negotiable based on your experience and skill level.
- You'll get to work flexible hours and enjoy a fully stocked kitchen in our cozy modern office in Kalamaja, the trendiest part of town. We're also open to remote working options.
- We're agile and have a high-performance development culture and plenty of startup spirit.
